Dear Helena Seo,

I am excited to apply for the product designer position at [Company Name]. With three years of experience at the intersection of fintech and healthcare, I believe I have the skills and expertise to contribute to your team.

In my previous role, I have been responsible for designing and implementing user-centered products that allow for quick and painless payment options. Working in healthcare has enabled me to develop empathy towards users who are dealing with complex health issues and design products that are intuitive, accessible, and easy to use.
I am proficient in using design tools such as Sketch, Figma, Principle, and Adobe Creative Suite. I also have experience in conducting user research, creating user personas, and conducting user testing to ensure that the products I design meet the needs of the target audience.
As a product designer, I am passionate about solving complex problems and creating products that are not only aesthetically pleasing but also highly functional. I am a highly energetic team player and have experience working closely with cross-functional teams such as product managers, developers, and other stakeholders to deliver successful products.
I am excited about the opportunity to bring my skills and expertise to Doordash, and would love to further the conversation about the design opportunities available.

Best,
Kailen Swain